

Testament of Trademark Authenticity

To Whom It May Concern,

The Board of Directors for AIRASE desires to reserve the use of the acronym AIRASE for the "Association for the International Research of Aromatic Science and Education".

Be it advised that no one or any entity may use this acronym for any reason. If anyone imitates this logo or uses the trademark AIRASE, that will constitute an illegal act which the association will prosecute to the full extent of the law.

AIRASE has a threefold mission:

First, AIRASE will promote research to establish the scientific validity for the standardization of essential oils for home, healthcare and medical uses.

Second, AIRASE intends to fund research through contributions and membership fees.

Third, AIRASE intends to globally inform the public on research results and research validity concerning the therapeutic uses and healing properties of essential oils -- thus providing hope, health and well - being now and for future generations.

As an officer and duly appointed signer of official documents of AIRASE, I attest that the above AIRASE logo is a registered trademark.
